Tripitaka: The Buddhist scriptures containing the teachings of the Buddha.

Dharma: Truth.

Samsara: continual cycle of birth and death

Four Noble Truths: 4 stages of consciousness on the path to enlightenment.

Noble Eightfold Path: Guidelines to follow to avoid suffering.

Sangha: Buddhist community

Humanism: A non religious world view.

Buddhists believe in:
Importance of compassion;
Respect for all living things and the intention not to harm them;
Being generous, kind, truthful, helpful and patient;

The Importance of reflection, meditation and developing inner peace.

They aspire to fearlessness, contentment, kindness, meditation

Samsara is the continual cycle of birth and death.

The Tripitaka is the name given to the Buddhist scriptures. The word means 'three baskets'- they were originally written on palm leaves and kept in baskets. The Tripitaka contains the teachings of the Buddha and his companions, comments on those teachings, as well as rules for monks. Buddhists call the teachings of the Buddha dharma which means 'truth'.

Buddhists believe the Buddha discovered that the answer lay in what have become known as the Four Noble Truths. Buddhists aim to achieve enlightenment by understanding these.

The Four Noble Truths are:

What the main beliefs of Buddhism are.

What the Tripitaka is and why it is important.

What they would expect to find at a Buddhist shrine and the significance of these.

That there are well known people who follow the Buddhist faith.
What Humanists believe and how their beliefs and ways of life are similar and different.

Explain what the main beliefs of Buddhism are.

Explain what the Tripitaka is and the reasons why it is important to Buddhists.

Give reasons why the sangha is important in the Buddhist community.

Give examples of how the Buddhist faith influences people's lives.

Compare and discuss the beliefs of Humanists and similarities and differences between their beliefs and ways of life and those of Buddhists.

Bat Mitzvah: Rite of passage for Jewish girls. Anne Frank: A Jewish girl, persecuted and killed for her faith during WW2.	There are different groups within Judaism- these are known as Traditional and Progressive Judaism. There are differences in practice, for example separation or lack of separation of men and women in a synagogue, differences in clothing, complete equality in Progressive Synagogues. The Jewish calendar begins with New Year in Autumn. Days start with sunsets, and some festivals are related to particular seasons. Rosh Hashanah is the Jewish New Year, which celebrates the anniversary of the creation of the world. There are 10 days between Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur – at this time Jewish people try to ask forgiveness for all their wrong doings in the previous year. Yom Kippur means Day of Atonement. It is the most sacred and solemn day in the Jewish calendar. Yom Kippur is a day to reflect on the past year and ask God's forgiveness for any sins. Jews do not work or go to school on this day. Yom Kippur is celebrated in September or October. In Judaism there are some sins that cannot be forgiven by God. Bar/Bat Miztvah ceremony – becoming son or daughter of the commandments. Rite of passage to becoming an adult in	That there are different traditions of Judaism- traditional and progressive- and that there are differences in how they practise their faith. That the 10 Commandments are common to both Judaism and Christianity, but may be interpreted differently in each religion. What the festivals of Yom Kippur and Rosh Hashanah symbolise. The Mahabharata: part of the Hindi holy texts (includes the most well known, the Bhagavad Gita).

The Puranas - a collection of stories about the different incarnations and the lives of saints.

Humanism: A non religious world view.

Hindus worship one God but do this through their own chosen names and forms of God, represented as icons/images e.g. Krishna or Sarasvati).

The symbolism of some murtis (e.g. Ganesha, Brahma, Vishnu, Shiva, Parvati, Durga, Sarasvati, Rama, Krishna) and what these tell about the nature of God.

Hindus believe that life is a cycle of birth, death, and rebirth (samsara). The next life depends on how the previous life was lived.

Karma is the law of cause and effect, which influences how Hindus live their lives. This relates to reincarnation and the belief that the soul is eternal. When a person dies the soul assumes a new body and experiences depending on actions in its previous life. Hinduism does not have a single holy book, but many ancient texts and scriptures.

The Vedas - a collection of hymns praising the gods. Veda means 'knowledge'.

The Ramayana - poems about Rama and Sita.
The Mahabharata - includes the Bhagavad Gita.
The Puranas - a collection of stories about the different incarnations and the lives of saints.

The Krishna Janmashtami festival marks the birth of Krishna. Celebrations start at midnight, when Krishna is believed to have been born. It is celebrated in many ways, including staying awake all night, fasting, preparing food containing curds and buttermilk, making a human pyramid and singing and dancing.

There are many well known people who follow or have followed Hinduism.

The main beliefs of Humanism are:

Trust of scientific methods when understanding how the universe works.

Rejection of supernatural (is therefore atheist or agnostic) Making ethical decisions in life based on reason, empathy, concern for other humans and for animals.

How the belief in Karma influences decisions made in everyday life.

What the Hindu holy texts are, some of the content of these and how they influence life.

What Hindus celebrate at the festival of Krishna Janmashtami.

That the work of some well known people is influenced by their faith.

Similarities and differences between the teachings of Hinduism and Humanism. Describe how the belief in Karma affects the day to day life of a Hindu.

Name the Hindu sacred texts and explain some of what they contain and how they influence a Hindu's life.

Explain what the festival of Krishna Janmashtami celebrates and how it is celebrated.

Explain how faith can influence life and work.

Make comparisons with another world view (Humanism).

Humans can act to give their own lives meaning through seeking happiness in this life and helping others to do the same.
