I Like

<https://nrich.maths.org/6962>

Mr Gilderdale was thinking of a number rule. He asked the class to choose numbers to test so they could try to work out what the rule was.

If the number they chose fitted his rule, he wrote it on the board under 'I like these numbers'. If the number they chose didn't fit his rule, he wrote it under 'I don't like these numbers'.

After the class had chosen four numbers, this is what was on the board:

I like these numbers

15
5

I don't like these numbers

18
22

What could Mr Gilderdale's rule be?

If you were in Mr Gilderdale's class, which number would you choose next to test your idea?

How could you find out Mr Gilderdale's rule in the smallest number of guesses?

Buddhist Worship

Buddhist worship is called 'Puja'.

A Wat is a Buddhist temple that most Buddhists visit on special religious days (often when it is a full moon).

Earth	Wisdom	Fire	Air	Water
The Earth is represented by the square base of the temple. 	Wisdom is symbolised by the pinnacle at the very top.	The spire represents fire. 	The crescent of a temple represents air.	The dome represents water.

Buddhists often have a shrine in their home where they thank Buddha for his teachings. Buddhists chant to show their love for the Buddha and make offerings of flowers, incense, candles and pure water.
